CREATING HIGH-TRUST, HIGH PERFORMANCE CULTURES

The more a company grows, the more essential it is to have emotionally intelligent leaders and cohesive, high-performing teams. Ineffective leadership, poor communication and a lack of collaboration will negatively impact company culture, employee satisfaction, and ultimately performance. It's essential that company leaders understand the impact their leadership style and behaviors have on their employees in order to cultivate a working environment where people want to come to work and give their best.

Laura A. Davis has seen dysfunctional working environments first hand and understands the toll they can take on an employee's professional and personal life. That's why she's dedicated herself to helping businesses understand how developing emotionally intelligent leaders, building cohesive teams, and creating healthy work environments built on trust and teamwork can cultivate a high-performance culture.

As a speaker, Laura helps audience members become more self-aware about their leadership approach and how they can become more effective leaders and team members. She guides them in understanding how leadership impacts performance and why an individualized, trust-based approach is best. Audience members leave with practical tools to help them improve communication and collaboration within their companies.
